Use Case

Every year, SHM hosts an annual conference for the largest gathering of hospitalists in the United States. The conference offers a comprehensive array of educational opportunities, featuring different topics for hospital professionals who are invested in lifelong learning.

To support this focus on continuing education, SHM offers on-demand video content from the conference that attendees can purchase for their colleagues who cannot attend.

Since 2014, SHM had used a video service provider to capture, edit and produce on-demand video content from their conference—but were not satisfied with the results.

In 2018, SHM began a partnership with Notified to produce on-demand video content from their annual conference, leveraging the Notified Video Production solution.

GOALS:

Support lifelong learning initiatives within the healthcare community

Extend reach of SHM conference content to hospitalists who cannot attend

Increase revenue through on-demand video content purchases

Approach

In the two years since SHM began its partnership with Notified, the non-profit has expanded the reach of educational content from its annual conference while supporting its commitment to lifelong learning.

SHM has also seen an increase in revenue stemming from this on-demand video offering.

The increase in on-demand content purchases from non-attendees was also followed by a dramatic improvement in the number of hospitalists proactively purchasing this content on-site.

Notified made the content capture execution efficient by leveraging a Pearl capture box, a live video production system used for audio and video recording.

This device allowed the Notified team to automate the capture process in each session room and allocate more resources to reviewing and expediting the content edits on-site for SHM to upload to its servers.

Thanks to the high quality of the video capture, the speed of the editing turnaround and the lower cost of the services provided by Notified, SHM was able to boost its annual conference revenue over the course of the last two years.

RESULTS:

210+

New on-demand content products delivered by Notified

142%

“The Notified team is incredible to work with. I trust them to execute our plan and exceed expectations. When I’m managing so many different things at once, they make life easy.”
