

GlobeNewswire AI Press Release Generator

Streamline Content Creation and Remove Worry

Writing a press release from scratch can be daunting and tedious, especially if you're short on time. GlobeNewswire's Al press release generator takes away worry and helps you securely draft a release like a pro, streamlining content creation so you can go straight to distribution.

Focus on Security

Notified offers generative AI capabilities using Open AI via Microsoft's Azure Cloud. Through our private cloud tenant, we ensure that all non-public information used during the drafting process is kept secure. The content submitted is treated with the same level of security as all GlobeNewswire press releases.

How Does It Work?

The GlobeNewswire press release generator uses artificial intelligence to draft content based on starter information that you provide. The generative AI content is treated with the same level of security as all GlobeNewswire press releases.

Save time during critical news moments by quickly and securely drafting, finalizing, distributing and measuring your press releases - all within the trusted Notified PR Platform.

1 Inspire

Give GlobeNewswire a summary of the details you want it to take into consideration. Provide a headine idea, storylines, topics to avoid mentioning - if relevant - and company quotes.

2 Refine

Once draft content is generated based on your inputs, it's time to review and refine your press release! Review the headline, sub-headline, point of origin and body copy - including contact details.

3 Verify

Verify the output and preview your press release across desktop, mobile and tablet views. You may email the draft or download a PDF copy to share for review, then confirm your review of the contents of your release.

4 Distribute

Once your press release has been drafted, refined and verified, distribute and share your news with media, authors and consumers worldwide! Choose from more than 1,000 newslines to target your news by geography, industry and media type.

5 Measure

Use our GlobeNewswire Analytics reports to get comprehensive metrics on reach, access, social engagement and visibility. Our dashboards tell you where your release went, who saw it and what action they took after reading it-details that can help you understand the impact of your news and fine-tune future communications.
